This session is designed to help participants develop a better understanding of the rights, responsibilities and complaint processes for individuals receiving Community Mental Health, Hospital Mental Health, and Medicaid services. Representatives from state agencies will provide information on the purpose of each system, who is eligible, how to gain access, and what to expect in the process. Participants will receive resource information regarding groups and organizations available to assist individuals and families in navigating the systems and protecting the recipients' rights.

Who Should Attend: Individuals and family members of young children, teen and young adults with special needs/disabilities (including youth guardians adoptive, biological, foster and stepparents, domestic partners who co-parent, grandparents, siblings, aunts/uncles, nieces/nephews, cousins, neighbors, communities, religious leaders and any other person the individual deems as a family member), organizations and service providers who work with families of young children, teen, young adults, and individuals with disabilities.
